ABOUT THE JOB

You will be working in the heart of Levira – in our Service Operation Center. One of your biggest responsibilities is making sure that all the right content of our play-out channels as well as our AI broadcasts is on air and running according to the schedule. You will spend your day behind a large wall of TV-screens (our own little spaceship if you will) with channels like Sony, Discovery and many more. You will also monitor the delivery and health of other Levira's services. In case of interruptions you will make corrections in running playlists, where possible, report the errors as well as coordinate relevant communication whether its in-house, customer related or both.

YOU WILL FIT IN PERFECTLY WHEN:

- You're not a stranger to working in shifts and staying up all night doesn't really make you sweat.
- You have an eagle-eye for details and an attitude of making stuff happen.
- You are fluent in English, and we like you even more if You also know some Russian.
- You don't lose your head in crisis and you're able to multitask and hustle through many different situations when they all happen at once.
- You have a team vibe and you love being surrounded by different people. You also like to initiate improvements when necessary.
- You know a little something about telecommunication and media or you find these fields interesting.
- Creating an order in Outlook, using a little Excel, discovering new apps to help you organize your work – it's all easy breezy for you.
- You're a cool fun-spirited person to hang around with. And most importantly – You're not afraid to tackle new challenges.

WHAT'S IN IT FOR YOU

- At Levira You'll find a dedicated team who's really into what they're doing.
- You'll get the full training in order to succeed, plus some great knowledge worth a lifetime.
So, don't worry You don't have to be an expert right away.
- It's a perfect position to kick off Your career in the field of media technology. Trust us, there's plenty of success stories among us.
- There are some great benefits e.g. additional winter-break, annual cash-bonus for good results max worth of 1.5 times your monthly salary and some more!
